Version & Mission

The vision of the institution is to provide world class technical education to students in India. The idea is to make SMIT a hub for skill development by strengthening ties with various industries and not just be limited to being a degree giving institution.

At SMIT learning is beyond the classroom; students are ushered to gain knowledge through live projects, workshops and seminars. The aim is to align engineering education with the current industry needs which necessitates breaking away from the stereotypical theoretical learning and moving to practical hands on training.
